

WYOMING STATE SHOOTING ASSOCIATION

NEWSLETTER Oct-Dec 2011

PRESIDENT'S COLUMN

America is staring economic collapse square in the face, despite most people either failing to pay attention or choosing not to.

Unlike the Great Depression of the 1930s, Americans are much less self-sufficient, have a weaker work ethic, and are much more dependent upon the largess of government. When their SNAP cards register zero balances these "entitlement" people are going to turn mean and ugly.

What does this have to do with us and our guns? Damn near everything as the gun represents civilization. Try protecting your family and yourself without one when the savages come to your house to satisfy their hungers. Yes, hungers plural.

WSSA members, as a whole, are an intelligent, self-sufficient, well-informed group of people. You have acquired fine firearms and are proficient in their use. You have laid aside large quantities of ammunition, re-loading components, long-term storage life foods, canning supplies, tools and quality-of-life necessities. All this I am pretty sure about, but what I am not so sure about is just how many of you have acquired the right mindset. While materiel is important, mindset is paramount.

Fortunately, we in Wyoming will be spared the worst of the societal breakdown. Unfortunately, we will not be able to avoid all of it.

The larger population centers will see riots as the unpaid "entitlements" grasp and claw for what they mistakenly believe is due them. This will bring on martial law. While this might be an appropriate response in the most troublesome places, this military take-over will be applied nationwide.

Those of us who lived conservative lives and planned wisely will be expected to "share" with those who did not. You will be ordered to turn in your guns, your gold and your groceries. If you are foolish and cowardly enough to comply, your family will be starving, defenseless, and without hope. If you fail to comply, you will be branded a "hoarder", a "terrorist", and an "enemy of the state."

I have read and agree with the following quote: "It is not going to end well, but it is definitely going to end." Just how "not well" it is going to end for you depends to a large extent upon your mental preparation. Polish up your plan, sharpen your skills, screw your head on straight, harden your heart, and firm up your friendships. It is going to be a wild ride.

Hunting and Conservation

Most of the game management units are open for hunting. Have you had success? I missed out on being able to tag along into the high country this year on a sheep hunt. In order to cure the itch, I packed up and hiked into the head of the Yellowstone River from Brooks Lake on Togwote Pass. The weather was grand, the mosquitoes and horse flies troublesome but kept at bay with bug dope. As more usual than not, spending time up top you'll see some interesting sights. I had never spotted a little brown weasel in the tundra before. Nor seeing such a large string of elk on the move. The elk appeared on the far horizon and headed my way as I watched across a small drainage. While the string was on the move they swung below a snowfield that was 1/2 mile long; the elk string was longer. Why the large herd, why the summer migration pattern?? I can only guess— bugs, bear or wolf problems. A video camera would have captured the sight for others. Another 'find' was the remains of a petrified stump over 50 inches in diameter. Then of course getting to watch bighorn sheep, deer, marmots and bear. Most trails I used had bear tracks—the pointed heel design of grizzlies. Only 3 were spotted, with the closest inside 50 yards. That little fella appeared to be in sad condition. I suspect it was on it's first year away from mom. The top of the shoulders was velvet in appearance; looking much like a mange problem, while the remaining coat hung in matted condition. Certainly a sad looking bear for late August. The other 2 were older, larger and all slick coated.

The Norton Point fire was to the east and poured out large billowing smoke columns each afternoon. The Union Pass fire started while I was on the hike and was clouding up the SSW sky. One night I awoke to the smell of smoke after the wind shifted, but most times it was carried to the SE of my location.

This trip I found it easy to locate water. There were abundant snow fields remaining that fed into stream in the afternoons. However in the mornings thin ice hung on the grass and water was no longer available.

All in all an enjoyable trip. Definitely 12000 feet above seas level still lacks oxygen! Yount's Peak is still climbable and the change from 8 days of granola to 'real' food welcome.

Have an enjoyable fall; be safe. Roger

To be sure to hit the target, shoot first and call whatever you hit the target.

I didn't say it was your fault, I said I was blaming you.

If I agree with you, we'll both be wrong.

I thought I wanted a career; turns out I just wanted a pay check.

War does not determine who is right, only who is left.

Evening new is where they begin with "Good evening", and then proceed to tell you why it isn't.

Dolphins are so smart that within weeks of captivity, they train people to stand on the very lip of the pool and throw them fish.

A diplomat is someone who can tell you to go to hell in such a way that you'll look forward to the trip.

You're never too old to learn something stupid.

I have often wondered why it is that conservatives are called the 'right' and liberals are the 'left'. Check out Ecclesiastes 10:2 NIV "The heart of the wise inclines to the right, but the heart of the fool to the left." Thus sayeth the Lord. Amen

Over 5000 years ago Moses said to the children of Israel, 'Pick up your shovels, mount your asses and camels and I will lead you to the Promised Land.' Nearly 75 years ago, (when welfare was introduced) Pres Roosevelt said, 'Lay down your shovels, sit on your ass and light up a Camel, this is the Promised Land.'

Today the government has stolen your shovel, taxed your asses, raised the price of Camels and mortgaged the Promised Land.

I was so depressed last night thinking about the Health Care Plan, the economy, the waste, lost jobs, savings, Social Security, retirement funds, etc that I called Suicide Hotline. I had to press 1 for English. I was connected to a call center in Pakistan. I told them I'm suicidal. They got excited and asked if I could drive a truck.
