NEWSLETTER July– Sept 2015

President's Column, July, 2015

While at a "big box" store recently I noticed several boxes of .22 rimfire ammunition for sale. They were CB caps and standard velocity shorts and they brought back fond memories from over fifty years ago.

I grew up in the borough of Queens, part of New York City, which was a very different place then. Gunshops were common and CB caps and standard velocity shorts were widely sold at Army-Navy and hardware stores as well. Why, you ask, well they just did not make hardly any noise.

Back then, people liked to shoot a lot more than they do now. Also; attitudes about "The Law" were a lot more flexible. We are not talking about predatory type crimes which were quite rare but statutory restrictions on one's right to do this or that.

Handguns had been restricted since 1911 and a very onerous system was in place to "legally" obtain one. An alternate system ensured easy access to the more freedom minded. One simply "put out the word" that he wanted a handgun and a "vendor" soon notified him of what was available. I remember well my $10.00 MK 6 .45 Webley revolver and $35.00 9mm Radom pistol. Finding a place to shoot them, however, posed a much more difficult problem.

A .22 rifle, using CB caps or SV shorts now becomes the shooters weapon of choice. A box of 50 sold for a similar number of cents and I bought them by the brick of 500. There were not restrictions on buying ammunition and rifles and shotguns could be purchased across the counter without any paperwork when one become 16 years old.

"Blood running in the streets" one wants to say; Au contraire as the French would reply. NYC was one of the safest cities in the world. Today it is one of the least safe and not a single gun shop exists within it's five boroughs.

Wyoming State Shooting Association now has a new secretary/treasurer and a new competition's directors. They seem to be off to a great start. Thank you to outgoing Roger Sebesta and Roy Bane for all your years of hard work and dedication.

Vice President's, July, 2015 At the annual May meeting a new secretary/treasurer and competitions director were elected to the board. We all appreciate their willingness to take on these tasks and this helps ensure the life and vitality of the Wyoming State Shooting Association. Nick Nickelson is the new secretary/treasurer and Dave Babits is the new competitions director, and they both are from Worland. They have both taken off wholeheartedly on their jobs, and please offer some support when you can.

I especially want to thank the outgoing board members. Roger Sebesta has been the backbone of our organization now for many years. As treasurer he kept close track of our funds and knowing how hard they were worked for, endeavored to see they were spent wisely. As secretary he kept track of membership, publishing the newsletter (waiting sometimes until the last minute for the president's column), printing the minutes of board meetings and the annual meeting, accounting for Association equipment, setting and helping to run the shooting booth at the now extinct Expo. and the State Fair. He and Dennis French spent effort, equipment and money to keep the range and guns in working order. WHEW! I could keep going, but these were his main responsibilities and you can understand why his was the supporting structure of your organization. He also is a contributing/shooting member of silhouette shooting and president of the Lander Valley Rifle Club. Our shooting environment has been enhanced by his contribution.

Roy Bane, competitions director, is thanked for his vision of championship matches at different venues, expanding into more kinds of shooting competitions, and probably most importantly founding the junior high power team. We would not have a junior high power team today without him. He originated the Greg Strom Trophy as the traveling trophy for the Service Rifle Championship. Roy understood and valued the importance of the skill of shooters who have gone before us and he tried to bring light to these shooters. Greg Strom was one of these shooters and he was from Laramie. Following a junior team trip to Camp Perry, Roy and his daughter produced a video of the trip, and brought back posters of art work that were done by Gerald Antolik of Hudson, Wyoming. He also brought state club trophies out of storage from the state museum in Douglas to be viewed. He wrote a published article about smallbore/high power shooting and proposed a WSSA lifetime achievement award.

Notice!!

The Clubs By-Laws as well as the Policy Manual Need to be Changed!!!

The By-Laws need revising and updating. They need to be fixed to make the clubs operations much simpler, and more able to be accomplished with less effort by the few folks that are willing to do the work. The idea is to make things a little more hi speed and low drag. These changes may be taking place around May 2016.

Question, Concerns, Suggestions, and Ideas!!

Hunting and Conservation

Greetings, as the heat of the summer is upon us the G&F has given some warnings on fishing when waters in the Green River and North Platte warm up. Trout experience significant mortality when exposed to prolonged temperatures of 75 degrees Fahrenheit. Brief temps of 80 degrees are lethal. They ask that catch and release fishermen try not to fish when temps are at critical highs. This will reduce added stress on the fish. They ask fishermen to fish in the cool hours of the day.

Also on a fishing note, remember in an attempt to stop illegal introduction of sport fish, it is illegal to transport live fish. Anglers have been learning the hard way at check stations.

I have noticed that whatever technology is being used to catch these all too frequent poachers, it seems to be working pretty good. There have been a good number of cases of poaching lately and many are being caught. Anything we can do to help translates into more game for us legal hunters.

The G&F has been offering photography workshops around the state. They are about 2 hours long and you bring your camera. It will help you to take great images of Wyoming's wild places and animals. Check it out to see if there are any workshops in your area.

The G&F has closed some roads lately for construction. If you are planning an outing, check the website for closures.

The G&F is doing research in a lot of areas, wolverine research, Big Horn Sheep captures, Amphibians, Sage Grouse and Black Bear trapping in the Grays river drainage. There will be warning signs at major access points. Public should take note of these signs.

Summer is a good time to hit the shooting range and get those guns tuned up for fall hunting. The cool mornings with no wind is a perfect time.

The wife & I are starting to shoot air guns to work on our shooting skills. With 22's priced high and scarce, it has turned out to be a good way to get some inexpensive shooting in.

As a side note some Remington rifles made between 2006 and 2014 have some trigger problems. I have one and I have to send it to Oregon for a fix. If you have a Remington made in this time frame, it would not hurt to check online or with Remington to see if you need to get it fixed.

I hope you all draw the hunting permits you wanted and are having a great summer in the Wyoming outdoors.

Please take some of our young people fishing, shooting or hiking and camping.

Have a great summer and most of all BE SAFE!!!

Dennis French

CHANGE THE APPROACH. MANIPULATE THE MESSAGE

The lack of national headlines about anti-gun assaults can be detrimental to gun ownership—and the industry. This is not a call for more anti-gun campaigns; they already exist in abundance. What's needed is an increase in knowing the anti-gun movement never stops, never rests. But, gun owners and many in the industry do.

History reveals gun owners only become really motivated and active when they believe their Second Amendment rights are threatened. Think President Obama's boldly announced national campaigns and the reaction of the gun owners.

Some recent examples: The Brady Campaign To Prevent Gun Violence is no longer anti-gun, according to its president, Dan Gross. Following his appearance on Fox's "Sean Hannity Show" in June, Gross related how he "dispelled a bunch of myths about our cause."

First on the list: We don't want to take guns away from law-abiding citizens. We simply want to keep them out of the hands of people who should never have access—felons, domestic abusers, rapists and other dangerous people," Gross said in a post-"Hannity Show" news release.

On the Brady Campaign's website, there's a call to expand background checks for all gun purchases. This, to the average American citizen, even many gun owners, may seem "reasonable." However, it translates to gun registration of law-abiding gun owners. Of course, it would have no impact on criminals, since they're not going to undergo a background check.

Remember: 'This organization was originally named Handgun Control, Inc. Same mission different approach. Don't be deceived.

The Center for Biological Diversity (CBD) is another organization that disguises its anti-gun message. The CBD appears to have lofty goals, but when correctly translated, they're zealously anti-hunting. Most of us have lost count of the number of petitions they've filed with EPA to ban lead in ammunition and fishing sinkers. The CBD is fixated on using the Toxic Substances Control Act to cripple hunting and fishing. Thus far, they have been unsuccessful. But, to be sure, they'll make another attempt.

That's why the Sportsmen's Act, presently working its way through Congress, is important. One of its provisions would prevent the CBD and others from using such tactics to attack the industry.

Then there's the vast network funded by Michael Bloomberg, who has poured millions, perhaps billions, into his anti-gun campaigns. Bloomberg, obviously frustrated at his lack of success, is funding workshops to "enhance the practical ability of journalists to report on guns and gun violence knowledgeably, ethically and effectively," It's painful to even read that, knowing the harsh anti-gun slant Bloomberg demands in these workshops.

Not satisfied with "educating" journalists, Bloomberg is also funding a new online "gun-news magazine" The Trace. In a June announcement, The Trace is described as a "journalism startup dedicated to changing the conversation about guns in America."

It's called brainwashing.

The Brady Campaign, the CBD, Bloomberg and a seemingly endless list of other groups and individuals, reflect the new tactic to driving the anti-gun agenda.

Change the approach. Fly under the radar. Manipulate the message.

The challenge for gun owners and those in the industry is to recognize all quiet on the gun-rights battlefield doesn't mean the fight isn't raging. It is, in fact, as intense as when it grabs national newspaper headlines and leads television newscasts.

"Ever vigilant", through overuse, may have lost its urgency, but remains essential to preserving gun ownership and securing the future of the industry. Ignore the quiet. Russ Thurman, July Shooting Industry

LANDER JUNIORS EARN TRIPS TO OLYMPIC TRAINING CENTER

Debra King, [J2]air pistol, Flint Pokorny, [J3]air rifle and Kyle Carper [J2] both smallbore and air rifle traveled to CO Springs to compete in the National JR Olympic Championships. King fired a 697-3 to place 21st in woman's air pistol. In the 3 position SB event Pokorny's score was 2041-30 for 64th and Carper's 1981-21 was 65th. Carper's air rifle score of 1068.8 was 191st. The placings are with all juniors shooters, not just their age class.

Kyle wrote " I had the opportunity to travel to the Olympic Training Center in mid-May. While I was there I competed in smallbore and precision air rifle. It was a great experience shooting in a range with electronic targets. I met competitors from all over the US. I learned some new skills and the protocol for shooting in a match of this caliber. Flint Pokorny and I had a great time competing at the Nationals and hope to attend again next year. I would like to thank the WSSA for their generous donation for travel expenses and entry fees. My coaches Dudley Irvine and Chip Williams for all their help and support and my parents for taking me to practices and to the Nationals, I couldn't have done it without all of them. Kyle Carper, Riverton, WY

For many of you who don't know me, my name is Flint Pokorny. This year I had the wonderful opportunity to qualify and shoot at the Jr. Olympic championships in Colorado Springs, Colorado the first week of May. This was a great and definitely humbling experience as I had the opportunity to shoot against the best of the best shooters from all over the nation. For those of you who don't know what it's like, the complex encompasses 35 acres on which all of the other Olympic teams also practice. Upon arrival I received a card that let me into most of the training buildings and during my off time I was able to watch our national basketball, martial arts and boxing team practice.

I would not have been able to have this great experience, without the countless volunteer coaching hours from Dudley Irvine and the use of the LVSA shooting range and equipment. Thank you so much for the opportunity to fulfill my dream, and also thank you for the $180 reimbursement to help pay for some of the expenses and for all you've done to help me improve.

Sincerely, Flint Pokorny

I was privileged this past April to be invited and compete in the National Junior Olympics for air pistol in Colorado springs, CO after receiving a qualifying score at State. It was a wonderful opportunity and I am grateful I was able to do it.

I was honored to be able to meet and talk to Coach Kim, one of the coaches to the Olympic Team. He was very helpful in giving me tips that will help me to become a better shooter.

Of the 60 competitors, I was able to complete the two-day competition finishing in 21st place.

I am very grateful to my parents and my coach, Chip Williams, for investing their time and money in me. I would also like to thank the Lander Junior Rifle & pistol Club and WSSA for their help in the monetary gift. I hope to be able to compete again next year as a more knowing and experienced shooter.
Sincerely, Deborah King

LANDER SPORTSMEN EVENTS

April 19 Rifle Silhouette The morning started with heavy overcast and a cool 37 degrees. At noon time the sun broke thru and temps reached 51 before the clouds rolled back in. The mirage often didn't agree with the wind flags and wids remained light. Each rifle division fired a 40 shot match with 10 at each of the 4 distances.

The 3 adult shooters got the season started with the standard bore rifles. Ron Kamp, Daniel proved he hadn't lost the trigger control since his last match a year ago and posted a 28 to take the match win. Roger Sebesta's 24 took top AAA. Anthony Fuller, Wheatland put 22 targets into the dirt to win AA, while Tony Cross, Lander toppled 19 for the A win.

Next up was SB hunting rifles and after the 40 shots Kamp & Sebesta tied at 25. The sudden death shoot off at 77 meter turkeys gave Sebesta the match win and Kamp 1st master. Lindle Offenbacher, AmFalls, ID returned to shoot after an 11 year lay-off and won AAA. Fuller posted another 22 to lead the AA class. Cross downed 19 for the A win.

After a short lunch break the hunting HP rifles took the line. Again Kamp prevailed with a 28 for the match win. Offenbacher won AAA. Kamp fires a 260Rem and Offenbacher a 7-08.

Last match was for standard HP. Kamp's 6.5 Bobcat toppled 28 for the Match win. Sebesta managed a 15 with a 7-08 for AA.

May 16 100 shot standing high power This years event drew 8 souls to shoot under very good conditions. The weather-man was wrong! The shooters coming across Togwotee Pass drove in & on new snow. Those coming from the SE ran thru severe hail and the trip over South Pass was thru fog.. Lander was bright & beautiful with early temps mid-40 and nearing 60 with a few errant breezy twists. 1st Master & only .30 cal shooter- Andrew Wilson, Jackson @ 934-8X. 1st Expert Todd Harley, Wilson @ 870-4X. 1st Sharpshooter Glen Bowers, Green River @ 806-3X. Match winner @ 943-14X was Sebesta.

May 17 Rifle Silhouette The predicted weather kept several regulars away. Set-up temps were in the mid-30's, making cool fingers handling the metal critter targets. The hunting HP rifles started the event. The 2 AA class riflemen alternated spotting and shooting duties. They were able to complete the 40 shot match with out having to reset. Tony Cross, Lander shows he is enjoying his new Tikka 6.5x55 and shoots it well. His 15 was match winner. Sebesta put a 13 on the score board for 1stAA.

Next up was SB hunting rifles. The 3 shooters elected to shoot w/out spotters and all started on pigs. This again allowed a complete match w/out resetting. Cross guided his CZ to the win by toppling 20. Fuller posted 17 to win AA. Sebesta's 17 was the only master score.

After a short break, the SB standard rifles were called to the line while clouds darkened and squirrely winds lessened. Sebesta was able to get the win @ 27. Fuller improved on his hunter score with a23 for top AA. Cross also put a couple more off the stands and with 22 took the A money.

June 21 Six adults enjoyed a fine day of shooting the metal critters. Tyler Kamp, Pinedale returned to competition after a year lay off and proceeded to win 3 of the 4 rifle divisions. His 32 was SB winner. Ron Kamp's 28 topped the AAA. Anthony Fuller, Wheatland posted 18 to win AA. The A win went to Tony Cross with 15.

In SB hunting rifles Tyler's 25 was MWinner. A 25 by Ron Kamp took the master money. Offenbacher got the AAA award with an 11. Fuller's 21 took AA and Cross's 19 earned A money.

After a short lunch break the high power rifles were called to the line. Ron Kamp got the match win with a 22 over Tyler's 20 and the AAA win. Cross fired his 1st std score and put 18 onto the ground to earn an A classification. He also got his 1st 5-in-a-row pin on the pigs.

Tyler again rose to the win in HP hunting with a 25, putting Ron's 23 for 1st AAA. By posting a 17, Cross won the AA money. Thanks to the shooters willing to travel and making the LVSA program enjoyable.
